For Disclosure to Security Holders:

1. The interest rate applicable to the 2009 term loan (interest of $1,000,000) is determined by the rate of the Standard American Bank term loan, which is the deposit rate for the deposit of CHF 100,000,000, plus applicable bank charges, for the amount that is still due from Standard Bank on 31.03.2009.
2. The deposit rate is 1.25% per annum. On 31. March 2009, the deposit rate is 1.25%, which is applicable to deposits of less than CHF 250,000, as the rate of interest on the deposit. Prior to this date, the rate was the rate applicable to deposits of less than CHF 250,000 as the rate of lending the deposit (1.50% plus a client deposit), the time rate of the time deposits or the rate of the deposit.
3. As per 1. April 2009, the deposit rate of the Standard American Bank is 1.25% for deposits of less than CHF 250,000, as the rate of interest on the deposit. As per 1. April 2009, the deposit rate of the Standard American Bank is 1.25% for deposits of less than CHF 250,000, as the rate of interest on the deposit.

IMPORTANT : * As per Section 2(a) introduced by Finance Act 2017, every person who receives income on which TDS is deductible, shall deduct TDS at the rate of 10% on the gross income. TDS is deductible on interest income on deposits and 10% on income on NRE deposits. These limits may vary in the absence of PAN as per TDS rules as 20% TDS shall be deducted on interest income on NRE deposits and 30% TDS shall be deducted on interest income on NRE deposits. TDS shall be deducted on interest income on NRE deposits and 30% TDS shall be deducted on interest income on NRE deposits.

Terms & Conditions (T&C)

1. The deposit is made based on the actual number of days in a year. In case, the deposit is spread over a long or a short year, the interest is calculated based on the number of days. For 360 days in a long year & 365 days in a short year.

Tax Deductions at Source (TDS)

2. As per Section 206AA introduced by Finance Act 2017, every person who receives income on which TDS is deductible shall deduct TDS at the rate of 10% on the gross income. TDS is deductible on interest income on deposits and 10% on income on NRE deposits. These limits may vary in the absence of PAN as per TDS rules as 20% TDS shall be deducted on interest income on NRE deposits and 30% TDS shall be deducted on interest income on NRE deposits. TDS shall be deducted on interest income on NRE deposits and 30% TDS shall be deducted on interest income on NRE deposits.

3. Every person who has been allotted a Permanent Account Number (PAN) and is eligible to obtain Aadhaar number, must update their Aadhaar number to the Income tax department (PAN-Aadhaar Linkage) as per Section 139AA of the Income Tax Act 1961 by 30th June 2023. Further non-linking of PAN with Aadhaar shall make PAN "non-compliant" and may attract higher TDS rate.

4. TDS rate is applicable from time to time as per the IT Act 1961 and IT rules. The current rate applicable for TDS on interest income on deposits is 10%. TDS is not deductible on interest income on deposits if the depositor is a resident individual and the deposit is in the name of the depositor and the deposit is in the name of the depositor and the deposit is in the name of the depositor.

5. If interest income is not sufficient to deduct TDS, the bank may get the balance from the principal amount of the deposit. If interest income is not sufficient to deduct TDS, the bank may get the balance from the principal amount of the deposit. If interest income is not sufficient to deduct TDS, the bank may get the balance from the principal amount of the deposit.

6. For interest deposits, the new deposit is made on the original deposit amount plus interest. TDS, if any, has been deducted on the original deposit.
